

BEVERLY FACTOR

LAGUNA BEACH, CALIFORNIA

Beverly Factor has traveled all corners of the globe photographing the world's most pristine and breathtaking coral reefs and mysterious creatures below the ocean's surface. A certified Naui dive master for over 20 years and logging over 5000 dives, Beverly gave up the corporate life and took a chance. She followed her heart and made her dream of traveling the world to photograph exotic undersea life come true. "I concentrate on the sensuality of the sea," says Beverly of her subject matter. "I want my pictures to seduce people, so that the sea captivates others like it captivates me." Boston born, Beverly Factor lives in Laguna Beach, California. Her award winning work is widely published in countless magazines, books and calendars and exhibited in many galleries and fine art shows. She has been interviewed on TV, news and radio programs about her art.
