

JAMES BURGHARDT

FERNDAL, WASHINGTON

James Burghardt has been a creative force in artwork and graphic design for over 20 years. As a pioneer in computer aided design, James has worked for some of the world's largest software companies including Adobe Systems and Microsoft Corporation. His artwork has appeared in print, television and computer interfaces. Mr. Burghardt grew up in Palm Springs, California. He was a child star and sang for president Ronald Reagan. He also made 2 record albums and appeared in many stage productions. This gave him early exposure to the arts and helped lay the course for his career. With a keen eye for design and layout, James' artwork combines traditional themes with contemporary flair. His unique use of natural elements and color composition complements any environment.
