

STEVE MCKENZIE

ATLANTA

GEORGIA

Steve McKenzie, a mixed media artist, has been painting for over 30 years. He maintains a studio in Atlanta, Georgia. His work resides in private collections in the US, the Netherlands, France and Italy. "When I cross the threshold of my studio, I never know what will happen. Creating works of art is a journey: each piece reveals itself to me moment by moment. It is a process of layers, media and marks until it declares itself done. 30 years of earnest art-making is reflected in the work of today. Years of evaluation and critique, exploration of media all contribute to the point in time of my current work. The journey of developing a voice and art is one of a lifetime and any piece marks that specific moment in time. I celebrate the work that is completed and leaves the studio, but always look forward to the work yet to come."
