

SUZANNE WILKINS

LEXINGTON

SOUTH CAROLINA

Suzanne Morgan Wilkins's love of nature is reflected in her bold, expressive variety of paintings from tropical settings and other beautiful destinations around the world, as well as at home in the Carolinas. Suzanne earned her BA and IMA degrees in Art from the University of South Carolina, and taught art in both the public school forum and her own art school at Holly Cove Gallery and Studio. She has in recent years set aside her love of teaching to focus on being a professional artist, and sells her paintings and giclees through galleries and interior decorators. Her newest venture was to sign on with an art licensing agent for corporate and commercial purposes. Suzanne also enjoys sharing her gift by donating her artwork to various charities and fundraisers that are close to her heart.